

VINCENT SHEPPARD

Edgard

Designed for the current vintage trend, the Edgard chair complements the existing Vincent Sheppard Bernard table. The chairs comprise a seat with a handmade weave of high-density polyethylene resting on teak legs. Further, the shell presents a comfortable and functional sanctuary, not compromising on design.

EXTREMIS

Pontsun

Japanese for pontoon, Pontsun features legs inspired by the origami paper folding technique of Japan, while the repetition of wooden planks emulates those found on pontoons or piers. Designed by Dirk Wynants, the table is perfect in an outdoor environment, presenting an oriental feel with the combination of robust wood and origami-like construction. Pontoon is pictured with Extremis Captain's Chairs.

SYWAWA

Twister

A play on nature and geometrics, Twister is the latest launch from Sywawa. The parasol has a fresh, light and playful appeal with a canopy that is sun-resistant and waterproof. All technical elements of the design are hidden on top of the canopy, while a lightweight fabric hangs loosely beneath, moving in the wind to create a combination of shapes.

GANDIA BLASCO

Daybed

Inspired by architectonic simplicity and defined by a contemporary silhouette, Daybed provides a private space within any landscape. Designed by José A. Gandia-Blasco, the structure incorporates a reclining lounge bed and canopy, while material for the cladding is available in either a water-repellent textile or aluminium slats, or a combination. Manufactured from an aluminium frame – anodised or powder-coated in bronze, sand, anthracite or white – the bed is finished with a canvas awning. The adjustable bed and cushions are made from weather proofed polyurethane foam, which is highly resistant to the elements.
